

COMPANY

ProductBio

PROJECT TITLE

Software Engineering Internship for Sustainable Procurement Data Science Company

PROJECT DESCRIPTION

As a member of the engineering team, you will be contributing to the development of a sustainable procurement management systems to help evaluate the environmental, social, and fiscal impacts of institutional procurement. Interns will have the opportunity to collaborating with data, engineering, and business development teams to help design and build solutions for our data partners. You'll gain experience in solution scoping, estimation, planning and oversight of architecture , development, integration and implementation of projects and how to use tools and services as part of product architecture.

INTERNS NEEDED

5 students, MS preferred, any combination of BS and MS

PREREQUISITES

Prior training and/or shown experience with Web application development framework and tools (Django, Amazon Web Services, Docker, Angularjs) and languages (Javascript, HTML, SQL, and Python)